

For children with disabilities, use reading activities that focus on their strengths

For children who struggle to see, involve their ears and hands

For children who struggle with hearing, involve their eyes and hands

For children who struggle to speak, use drawings to communicate

