

La Première Maison (French)

This is a Level 3 book for children who are ready to read on their own.

Il y a très très longtemps , quand les gens vivaient dans des cavernes, deux frères qui habitaient dans le nord-est de l'Inde, maintenant appelé Arunachal Pradesh, décidèrent de construire leur propre maison. Dans ce conte populaire qui se réfère à la riche faune de cette région, vous apprendrez comment la première maison a été construite.

Pratham Books goes digital to weave a whole new chapter in the realm of multilingual children's stories. Knitting together children, authors, illustrators and publishers. Folding in teachers, and translators. To create a rich fabric of openly licensed multilingual stories for the children of India and the world. Our unique online platform, StoryWeaver, is a playground where children, parents, teachers and librarians can get creative. Come, start weaving today, and help us get a book in every child's hand!

Les Singphos

Les Singphos vivent dans la vallée de l'Ohit et de Changlang qui se trouve dans l'état de Arnachal Pradesh. Leur tribu est divisée en un certain nombre de clans. Chaque clan est gouverné par un chef appelé Gam. Contrairement aux autres populations, qui sont impliquées dans la culture jhum (itinérante), les Singphos cultivent le thé.

Durant un festival nommé Munao Poi, les femmes Singphos portent des jupes en laine brillante et des vestes noires décorées d'argent. Quant aux hommes Singphos ils portent des Lungis colorés avec ou sans chemise blanche et couvrent leur tête avec des turbans.

Les maisons Singphos sont habituellement à deux étages et sont fabriquées en bois ou en bambous. Elles sont de forme ovale et l'étage inférieur est utilisé comme étable ou pour le stockage des aliments, tandis que l'étage supérieur devient le lieu d'habitation de la famille.
